Baby comfort

The Petit Panda Air+ breathable baby pillow from Candide is designed with memory foam to create a 2-in-1 cushion that raises baby's head to keep it rounded, and allows air to circulate through its ventilating mesh weave. The micro-perforated woven fabric absorbs perspiration away from the baby's head, keeping baby dry and comfortable while sleeping. The Petit Panda has been carefully designed to help prevent 'flat head' (plagiocephaly) and provide comfort for babies. The pillow is both light, portable and ideal for travel.

Connected

More 2 Explore's Adventure Belt is a new device to keep children safe when out and about with parents. Designer, Lucy Bostock, came up with the idea after becoming separated from her youngest son while on a day out – the longest 10 minutes of her life! The Adventure Belt keeps children connected to parents when out shopping or attending busy events. The product is designed for children with good walking ability, is trendy and fun – and importantly gives parents peace of mind.
