

Plan your stay

If you haven't already planned your trip to Harrogate, the show's partner Mice Concierge has negotiated some great rates with hotels making it an affordable option to stay in town for a few days and get the very best out of the show.

Also, book your train journey now to take advantage of advance rates with National Rail (journey is just over two hours from central London) or if you prefer to fly, British Airways have flights from Heathrow to Leeds for just £44 each way (one hour and 10 minutes).

Don't forget to allow plenty of time at the show this year – with over 180 exhibitors filling six halls, plus a packed seminar programme, there is plenty to keep you busy for the full three day duration.

Licensed favourites

Rainbow Designs is excited and honoured to be launching its brand new Peppa Pig Nursery Collection. This gorgeous range is designed in soft neutral tones and focuses on both Peppa and her little brother George and includes comfort blankets, musical pull downs, chime and rattle toys, large activity toys and a Peppa teether. The company also has exciting new additions to its Peter Rabbit, Guess How Much I Love You, Miffy and The Very Hungry Caterpillar ranges. Each toy has been designed specifically for baby and encourages development through play. Visit Rainbow Designs on Stand C14.

High flying range

Kite will be launching its autumn winter 2015 collection, exploring the wonderful world of learning. It has created a very special range that reflects the fun and useful skills that children collect as they grow up from bike riding to baking. Look out for yo-yos, skateboards, juggling balls and much more. The company is also launching lots of exciting new products having expanding its collection further including socks, knitted rompers and colouring books for the first time. Kite is particularly excited about its new Nimbus collection which features high performance waterproof rainwear for babies, girls and boys. Visit Kite on Stand H6

More from Maguari

Maguari is looking forward to revealing yet more top quality products at this year's Harrogate International Nursery Fair. One item that the team is particularly excited about is the 37° Thermoband, a simple but clever silicon band that's destined to make the 'milk temperature guessing game a thing of the past. Using colour-changing technology, the band lets parents know when baby's milk is the optimum and safe temperature for feeding. Other must-see items on Maguari's stand include its recently launched ISI Mini travel range, new fabrics for the stylish Bebe au Lait Nursing Cover and a whole host of new designs from New York based Skip Hop ... fresh changing bags, feeding accessories and children's backpacks to name just a few. Visit Maguari on Stand H3.

Inspired by India

Petite Namaste is delighted to premier its stunning and exclusive range of baby bedding and accessories in the UK. Made with 100% cotton fabrics, inspired by Indian prints and created using the ancient technique of hand block printing – each unique piece is crafted to the highest quality. The Petite Namaste range includes baby and toddler quilts, cot-bedding sets, swaddling blankets, bibs, changing accessories and more. Currently selling in the US, Petite Namaste embodies the vision of co-founder and creative director Yanira Colon who left the New York fashion industry in 2010 to live in India. There she fell in love with Indian colours and prints and was mesmerized by the technique of hand block printing - from this Petite Namaste was born. To find out more, come along to Stand HP104
