

Countdown is on ...

With just over two weeks until the doors of Harrogate International Nursery Fair open for the first time in two years, it's hardly surprising that excitement is high throughout the industry. Everyone attending will no doubt be looking forward to letting their hair down for some fun and socialising at the FREE Sunday night party, which takes place in the Harrogate Convention Centre straight after the show. And of course, retailers and buyers can look forward to seeing the latest new product ranges – see below for snippets of what's in store.
